To whom it may concern

The undersigned declares that he has carefully studied the project for the sculpture field by Ezra Orion.

he has visited the site near sde Boker, high above one of the most wonderful valleys between Beersheva and avdat - This site dictates the dimensions of the sculptural complex. That will dominate the space around and will attract and stimulate the visitors -

The two high elements are linked by large horizontal structures which will induce the visitors to walk around or to enter and enjoy the play of light and shadow furnished by the fascinating shapes, created by the human mind amidst the impressive natural environment -

he admires the great qualities of the whole sculpture and the message it carries and he sincerely hopes that it will be executed in order to become a focal point in the area

Dear Mr. Orion,

I was very pleased to be able to discuss with you your remarkable project for a sculpture field in the Negev desert.

Obviously it is hard to obtain from photographs an accurate impression of your idea, but it does seem to me that it is a serious and exciting project.

I do hope you are able to get the support you need; please do not hesitate to let me know when and if I can be of any help to you.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Ezra Orion,

I think your "Sculpture Field" is a most imaginative and inspiring idea, and I hope you will be successful in finding support to realise it.

Many of the thoughts you express about sculpture are very near to what I also believe.

I wish you the very best of luck.

THE MIDRASHA OF SDEH-BOKER (COLLEGE OF THE NEGEV)

ON THE SCULPTURE FIELD

It was in the desert that the People of Israel became a nation. There the great spiritual quality, which brought the People of Israel down the long road of history to this very day, was crystalized. When our people returned to their land, we also returned to this desert.

Five years ago the Midrasha of Sdeh Boker was established here in the Negev. Presently it embodies the nucleus of a science, education and cultural center, out of which a lasting institution for the transmission of Jewish values will emerge.

The Sculpture Field, the creation of sculptor Ezra Orion, will be an inspiring contribution to this institution. It will express man's struggle with the desert, his existence and his God. It will convey a unique synthesis of spiritual creativity and deep sensitivity for the primordial landscape of this area.

I wholeheartedly endorse this project. It is worthy of unstinting support.

Orion's scheme for an immense sculptural environment in the Negev desert, South of Beersheba, is imaginative and could be great if it is allowed to materialise. The artist has lived in the Negev and has the utmost sensitivity for its structure, its physical density and scale, as well as its atmosphere.

The scheme might well achieve much for public recognition of sculpture in Israel and an extension of the Ezra Orion Collection. It presents a very modest and narrow concept of sculpture as something imposed onto life, as a luxury object. The scheme's chances for success are considerable, as Orion is a good artist with an exceedingly thoughtful and untheatrical approach to his ideas for the site.

Project for a Monumental Sculpture by Ezra Orion in the Midrasha of Sdeh Boker

Mr. Ezra Orion came to the Tate Gallery today and discussed with me and my colleagues the project for a monumental sculpture which he has designed to be erected in the Negev.

We examined a number of detailed photographs of maquettes and discussed with him the possible development of his plan. It seemed to us to be a highly imaginative and rather noble conception and we very much hope that he will obtain the financial support necessary to carry it through.

This note testifies to the integrity of Mr. Orion as a sculptor, and to the value and interest of his project in the Negev Desert, which is part sculpture, part architecture and which he has called 'the Sculpture Field'!

Many artists, architects and landscape designers in this country who know Mr. Orion's work, will wish to do what they can to help this new project towards execution. But it will need resources greater than he can personally command, and outside what official government action can secure for him. The best way for us to support his project, therefore, is to bring it to the attention of those in a position to commission it. I am glad to include myself among his supporters.

EZRA ORION

Ezra Orion is a remarkable artist. His imaginative and vital approach for a sculpture field in the Negev Desert is a courageous and compelling idea. The photographs of the maquette reveal the intensity of feeling and the emotional response that should be felt by anyone who visits the work when it is complete.

I am most enthusiastic about this project: I think it will be a remarkable achievement and therefore well worth supporting. I understand that financial resources are still lacking; I give unquestioning support to the whole idea and hope that the finance will be forthcoming to complete this adventurous and imaginative project.

I have talked recently with Ezra Orion about his highly ambitious idea, and have seen his photographs. These make it clear that if the project were realized it would be a highly inspiring one.

I am very glad to say on paper that I believe that anyone giving funds to Mr. Orion's scheme would be contributing to a very remarkable project envisaged by an artist of large vision and obvious integrity.

Dear Mr. Orion,

Thank you for sending me the publication
about the Sculpture Field in the Negev.

I had another look and I would like to say that it is an exciting idea. It is highly imaginative on a very large scale and should arouse considerable interest.

I hope that you will manage to get the necessary financial support to carry it through.

Dear Anna Davis

As it is already October I felt there might be some answer from your father about the Sculpture Field. Did anything come?

Here I carry on slowly but surely.
plan to come again to London next spring.
Waiting for your answer
many thanks

Dear Anna Davis, a letter from Ben Gurion and I send to  Ryan ~~shew~~ a group of letters about the Sculpture Field which arrived from England. I have been there this summer for three weeks looking for an international public support for the project. The main thing there was the meeting of Henry Moore at his home in the country.

~~I send to you~~
If you need more booklets please let me know now I believe that <sup>we in</sup> Israel are strong enough to put more efforts and spirit in Art and culture

Still waiting for good news from you
